

MADISON WILL HELP ON FEDERAL HIGHWAY

County Judge Price Tells Road Boosters From Boyle and Garrard Counties

Assurance that Madison county will do her level best to co-operate with the good people of Boyle and Garrard counties in pushing the Federal Highway on to connect with the Dixie Highway here, was given the visiting delegations here Friday afternoon at the conclusion of all the addresses on the subject. Judge Price said that he did not know just what Madison would be able to do, with demands upon her road fund from so many quarters, but he felt that Madison would not fail the other counties which are so vitally interested in getting this road through in order to have an outlet for business.

Mr. R. E. Turley, of the State Bank and Trust Company, was one of the concluding speakers and he gave a concise review of many of the problems that have confronted those who really desire good roads in this section. He pledged the hearty support of the progressive people of Madison to the campaign to secure this highway.

The visiting road boosters left well pleased with the situation as they found it here, and are confident that the highway will go through. The Madison Fiscal Court meets the first Tuesday in January and it is probable that some action may be taken at that time upon the proposition.

M'KINNEY NOW SOLE OWNER OF LAUNDRY

Announcement has been made that Mr. B. Z. McKinney has purchased the interest of his partner, Mr. O. C. Evans in the Madison Laundry, here. Mr. Evans will devote his whole time to the laundry and his brother, Mr. Joe Evans, recently bought in Mt. Sterling. Mr. McKinney is already planning many improvements in the local plant. He has bought two of the latest style presses and intends to give his patrons the very best service that is possible in every way. He is known as one of the most energetic young business men in the blue grass and many warm friends will wish him every success as he goes it alone.

Xmas Tree At Methodist Church
The Methodist Sunday School held its annual Christmas tree for the purpose of distributing the Christmas treat to the children. A short program was rendered and a delightful time was enjoyed. This is also the time the Sunday School selects for making an offering to poor of the city. The people gave quite freely and 21 large baskets full of the necessities of life were the results of the offering. The names of the needy were secured from the Associated Charities, and on Christmas morning Prof. Boothe, the superintendent, and a number of helpers, distributed the offering to the several parties. Many hearts were made glad by this visit from Santa.

Enid Bennett A Good Cook
Enid Bennett, the popular star in Paramount-Ince pictures, is a good cook. She proved this recently to members of the company appearing with her in "Stepping Out," the Paramount picture which comes to the local theatres tonight.

Miss Bennett plays the part of a thrifty housewife who sews, cooks and cleans. So when it came to cooking she agreed to really prepare a meal for the company. The chef d'oeuvre she announced would be "Australian Goose."

Now, as Miss Bennett came from Australia, the players were anticipating tasting some rare bird. It turned out that "Australian Goose" is merely a name used for mutton. But it was a dainty dish and all thoroughly relished it.

"I tell you," said Niles Welch, who plays the part of the disconcerted husband in the story, "if all wives cooked like this, there never would have been any chance for this picture happening."

Moved To Nicholasville

Mr. Joe Grant and family have moved to Nicholasville to make their home, where he will be proprietor of a first class confectionery and restaurant. He could not do without the Daily Register, and has ordered it sent to his new address.

BRIDGE CASE RESTS IN APPELLATE COURT

Arguments in the Clay's Ferry bridge case were made before two judges of the Court of Appeals at Frankfort on Friday. Judges Thomas and Settle heard the case, and it is understood that they will call in Judge Carroll to pass upon it with them. Madison and Fayette counties, which are seeking to prevent collection of toll at the bridge over the river on the Lexington pike, were represented before the court by Attorney G. Murray Smith while Attorney A. R. Burnam argued for the defendant bridge company. The question is upon a motion to dissolve the temporary injunction which Judge Shackelford granted against collection on tolls, a couple of weeks ago. An early decision of the court at Frankfort is expected.

$10,000 For Best Republican Platform

Will Hayes, chairman of the Republican National Committee, has accepted an offer of $10,000 from Truxton Beale, former United States minister to Persia, to be given in prizes for the best platform offered by young republican men and women. Chairman Hayes said the contest will open at once, and close March 31, 1920. The first prize of $6,000 will be given for the best manuscript received, $3,000 for the second best and $1,000 for the third. The contest is confined to young men and young women of 25 years or under. Manuscripts are limited to 6,000 words.

(By Associated Press)
London, Dec. 27—Frederick William, former German Crown Prince, will be included among the persons whose surrender is demanded by the French for trial for illegal acts in connection with the war, according to an unofficial report.

Frederick William, it was said, will be charged with looting and robbery, with violence. There appears to be no further decision with regard to the case of former Emperor William.

Splendid Citizens Leaving

With the beginning of the new year Madison county suffered the loss of a number of its best citizens. Mr. A. J. and Larue House B. F. Boggs and family, move to Bloomington, Nelson county. Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Minter and family, Mr. Cale Park and family, and Mr. J. W. Park and family go to Brooksville, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. Butler Dunn to Shelby county.

SOLD AUTOES FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Mr. J. F. Foley, manager of the new Dixie Auto Company, local agents for the Studebaker and Chevrolet cars is an enthusiastic believer in the power of newspaper advertising. About a week ago, he received a consignment of cars and immediately announced their arrival thru an advertisement in the Daily Register. During Christmas week, his advertisements carried the slogan "Give a Studebaker or a Chevrolet Car for Xmas," and from the fact that only two Studebakers and one Chevrolet car remain on the floors it is quite evident that several homes were made happy this Christmas with a new car. Mr. Foley attributes his splendid sales almost entirely to his advertising in the Daily Register, and states that the advertising columns of this newspaper have proven themselves the best salesman he has.

Saturday morning, the Dixie Auto Company received a Chevrolet "Baby Grand" F. B. model roadster, the first car of this kind seen in this section. It is a beautiful car and has already attracted a great deal of favorable comment.

First Christian Church

At the First Christian Church tomorrow the Sunday School will meet at 9:45. In the morning service at 10:45, Dr. Carpenter will preach on the "Passing of the Night," and in the evening at 7 o'clock on "The Challenge of an Old Year."

WOOD ALCOHOL BOOZE PROVING FATAL

(By Associated Press)
Chicopee, Mass., Dec. 27—Drinking of whiskey with a wood alcohol base had caused the deaths of 54 persons in Connecticut valley cities today. The list of deaths mounted with reports from this city, Holyoke, Springfield and Hartford, Conn. Others stricken by the concoction marketed for Christmas festivities are reported seriously ill, blinded or dying.

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 27—Thirteen persons have died here from what appeared to be wood alcohol poisoning up to noon today. The list of ten deaths last night was increased by three today. Two saloon keepers are under arrest.

TWO MORE DEATHS IN NEWARK

(By Associated Press)
Newark, N. J., Dec. 27—Wood alcohol poisoning today caused the death of two persons, bringing the death list from that cause to five during the last two weeks. Two saloonkeepers are under arrest.

LICENSE GRANTED TO 13-YEAR-OLD BRIDE

The youngest bride ganted license to wed here in a long time was Miss Bettie E. Story, daughter of Brutus Story of Rural Route No. 1, Richmond, who gave her age as 13 years when she and Brack Applegate, of Kirksville, obtained license at the office of County Clerk J. W. Maupin. Mr. Applegate is 22, and a prominent young farmer. Other marriage licenses issued since last report are as follows:

Brack Applegate, 22, of Kirksville, son of David Applegate, and Bettie E. Story, 13, daughter of Brutus Story, of R. D. 1, Richmond.

Horace Burton, 26, son of John Burton, and Anna Brown, 25, daughter of Frank Brown, both R. D. 1, Berea.

Burton Whitaker, 23, son of Willie Whitaker, of Cottonburg, and Bessie May Rhodus, 20, daughter of J. V. Rhodus, of R. D. 1, Richmond.

GOOD WEED WILL CONTINUE HIGH

But Poor Grades Are Not Much In Demand, Say Experts—Markets Reopen Monday

The Richmond tobacco market will reopen Monday, December 29th. Selling will then continue straight on to the end of the tobacco season.

Buyers and sellers have had a nice holiday and are ready to go back to work. Both warehouses have their floors filled and sales will start off with a rush.

Prospects are still bright for good prices, all tobacco men say. That is on good grades. Poor grades have not sold very well at any time this season, and there is no prospect for trashy stuff getting any better. The demand for classy weed is just as bright as ever, but low grade stuff is going to drag a lot, tobacco men who know, say.

So far the Richmond markets have sold almost two million pounds of tobacco, according to figures furnished by S. W. Norman, supervisor of sales. The figures as shown by Mr. Norman are as follows:

Madison Warehouse, sales of 889,030 pounds for $515,731.32.

Home Warehouse sales, 992,630 pounds for $608,282.91.

A total of 1,881,660 pounds sold for a total of $1,124,014.23, or an average of about $59.73 per hundred pounds, considered very good.

Further advances which are taking place in the prices of Kentucky tobacco to growers, make present values from 177 to 200 not quite 300 per cent higher than before the war, says the Courier-Journal. If maintained this probably will mean that when the present crop has been reduced to a manufactured state consumers will be asked to pay much higher prices for cigarettes, plug and smoking tobacco.

Average prices for a number of markets indicate that leaf in general grown in this state is from 75 to more than 100 per cent higher than the opening last year, which was considered a banner one for growers.

Comparison of official quotations of the Louisville Tobacco Board of Trade for last week and for the week ending April 11, 1913 shows that all grades of Kentucky tobacco are selling on the local market at an average of 3.68 times what they were bringing in that period before the war.

Producers are getting 3.82 times as much for dark red burley 3.69 times as much for bright red burley, 3.88 times as much for colory burley, and 2.77 times as much for dark manufacturing tobacco.

New high record prices have been established on practically every one of the more than fifty markets of the state. Prices have reached as high as $1.53 for leaf in "basket" quantity and a large number of crops have averaged around $1 a pound, with some few ever higher.

For the second week of this season Lexington, the biggest loose leaf market in the world, reported an advance of 133 per cent as compared with the corresponding week last year.

Mt. Sterling reports that its general average to date exceeds $45, a gain of more than $21 over the same period last year.

Farmers who formerly merely rented their land from large plantation owners, now are purchasing acreage from proceeds of this year's crop alone, and speculation in tobacco lands is rampant.

One farmer is reported to have received as much for forty acres of tobacco on his 220-acre farm cost in 1878, while another obtained $1,000 more an acre for a crop than he paid for the land on which the leaf was raised.

Limousines are becoming common in the tobacco sections. Tobacco prices have created more excitement among farmers of the state than the famous night-riding exploits.

"Pinhooking" has become a favorite sport on various markets. This consists of making an offer to a grower for his crop while it is on the floor before the auction sales have started, and reselling at a profit. One speculator bought a crop at 70 cents a pound on the opening day of the season at one market and then got 90 cents a pound at auction for it a

NOTIFY LODGE HE MUST CHANGE ATTITUDE

Washington, Dec. 27—An ultimatum was served on Senator Lodge, republican leader, yesterday by a coalition of mild reservationists and "middle-grounders" in the senate, informing him that unless he speedily reports actual progress towards a treaty compromise, the coalition forces will treat directly with democrats and ignore Mr. Lodge's leadership.

While the ultimatum did not set a time limit, senators who sent it define "speedily" to mean the time between now and the reconvening of congress January 5th. "Progress" they define as at the very least, the discussion of a compromise with Senator Hitchcock, acting leader of the democratic minority. Speaking very frankly of the situation, which they say Mr. Lodge's inactivity has created within his own party in the senate, republican senators said that unless he goes to Senator Hitchcock before January 5th or makes some other definite move toward initiation of discussions for an agreement that will result in ratification, they will go to the democratic leader soon after recess ends.

FORMER LOCAL MAN KILLED IN JACKSON

The news was received in Richmond at an early hour Saturday, of the death of F. J. Lipscomb, for many years a resident of this place, and known by many of the older citizens. Mr. Lipscomb was a bridge carpenter and had been located for some time in Jackson, Breathitt county. It is understood he was crossing the railroad bridge when the train ran over him. The accident occurred at 7 o'clock and he survived until 10. Mr. Lipscomb was 68 years old. He married Miss Ella Dykes, sister of Mr. W. V. Dykes of this place, who preceded him to the grave several years ago. He is survived by one little girl, 9 years old, to whom the sympathy of many Richmond friends is extended. The burial will take place at Ford Sunday afternoon.

Prominent Editor Dead

(By Associated Press)
Cincinnati, O., Dec. 27—Caleb Van Hamm, one of the best known newspaper editors in the country died at Miami, Fla., according to word received by relatives here.

few minutes later.

Louisville manufacturers assert that present retail prices to consumers are based on last year's raw tobacco prices and that chewing and smoking tobaccos will have to be advanced in the near future to meet higher prices being paid to growers this year. They argue that prices to the consumer have not advanced in proportion to those for raw leaf since before the war.

Present high prices for raw leaf are the outgrowth of a tremendous increase in use of cigarettes in this country and a much greater export demand for United States leaf, caused largely by the wider introduction of it into England, France and Italy by the American army during the war.

Department of Commerce reports that 4,283,658,000 cigarettes were manufactured in this country during September, a new high record, and a gain of 877,000,000 over the same month in 1918. Present production each month is more than one and one half times as great as the yearly production at the time the so-called tobacco trust was formed.

Although the acreage planted in tobacco this year was the largest in history some experts assert that the burley crop is nearly 30 per cent less than the average as a result of drouth, although the crop as a whole is the largest on record in this state.

The quality of the crop is mostly inferior, but what fine tobacco there is it is superfine. Manufacturers are paying high prices to growers to stimulate production, and because they are obliged to compete with each other to maintain their supplies.

"TAPS" OVER GRAVE OF WM. MANSFIELD

All honors were paid to the remains of William T. Mansfield, one of Richmond's splendid young sons who gave his life for his country, at the funeral here Friday afternoon. Young Mansfield died while in the naval service in Ireland in October, 1918 but his body had just been sent to his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Mansfield on Estill avenue.

The services were very impressive and beautiful. Rev. D. H. Matherly, his pastor, conducted the religious service. Taps were sounded at the grave. An escort of honor, composed of a number of returned soldiers and sailors in uniform accompanied the remains of their comrade to the last resting place, as honorary and active pallbearers. They were Spears Turley, Franklin Deatherage, Ed Baldwin, Robert Garrett, Taylor Bogie, George Stone, Jasper Kirby, Hubert Fielder, R. C. Cosby, Walter Rowlette, Jake Brown, George Blevins and H. Harris.

GRIDER WANTS TO SUCCEED WARD

Friends here are interested to know that Mr. W. H. Grider, of Richmond is a candidate for State Fish and Game Commissioner, the position which is now filled so ably by Quincy Ward, of Paris. Mr. Grider has served as game warden of Madison county for some time by appointment of Mr. Ward. The Lexington Leader said the other day that Gov. Morrow will not remove Ward, as the office has nothing to do with politics. The fact that Mr. Grider, a prominent republican, has held a position in the department for some time, gives color to such a statement. Anyway, if Ward does happen to be removed, friends of Mr. Grider, whether democrat or republican, feel that he is well entitled to the place. He has always been a staunch republican, and well deserves this honor at the hands of his party.

THE HOSKINS BOYS AGAIN

Those Hoskins boys again. Upon a warrant sworn out by William Begley, their step-brother, son of the Begley whom their mother Mrs. Tennessee Hoskins recently married, four of the Hoskins boys were arrested Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Sant Bush, on disorderly conduct charges. Begley says that they threatened to shoot him and also "cussed him out considerably." The boys arrested were Charles, John, Embury and Lawrence Hoskins. They will be tried next Friday. They were released on $100 bond each furnished by B. A. Moberly.

The body of Vernon Hisle, who died in Phoenix, Ariz., was buried at his old home in Clark county.

George Fishback, of Carlisle, paid $235 an acre for the W. H. Curtice farm of 762 1-2 acres in Shelby county at public sale.

SAVED FROM BOOZE; SHOT TO DEATH

Winchester Drummer Who Was Saved At Hospital Here, Is Killed In Lexington

J. S. Thomason, salesman for a grocery firm of Winchester, who came near dying in a Richmond hospital a few months ago from a drink of whisky, a chance acquaintance gave him on the Red House pike as he was coming to Richmond, was shot and instantly killed in Lexington Christmas eve. He was killed by James Welch, of Fayette, who claimed Thomason was advancing on him with a knife. The shooting took place on Cheapside in the midst of a holiday crowd. Six shots were fired, all taking effect in Thomason. Welch was lodged in jail and claims self defense.

According to the story told, Welch was standing by Thomason's car talking to the latter's wife. Welch says Mrs. Thomason called him to her car to ask him about selling it. He says that Thomason came up and demanding to know why he was talking to his wife, pulled a knife and advanced on him. Welch had a gun on him for some reason and killed Thomason.

Thomason was well known in Richmond and all this section as the "made" it often for his firm. He covered Richmond, London, Stanford, Lancaster, and Paint Lick. He had a very close call at the time a stranger whom he kindly gave a ride in his car, gave him a drink of liquor purporting to be whiskey. Thomason's life was saved by prompt work and treatment at the Gibson hospital here. Two days before he was shot and killed, Thomason took out an insurance policy for the benefit of his wife, for $5,000.

Mrs. Thomason is said by the Lexington papers, to be too prostrated to make a statement.

DOCTOR'S ALIBI IS STILL HOLDING GOOD

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Dec. 27—Composed and confident Dr. Christopher Schott was arraigned in police court today charged with the murder of his office girl, Elizabeth Griffith. About the same hour the Griffith girl's funeral took place from an undertakers' chapel. Schott denies any connection with her death and points to his story detailing his whereabouts on the day of the tragedy. His staunchest defender, 13-year-old Laurene Gardner, continues to assert she was with him delivering Christmas presents at the time the girl is believed to have met her death.

White-Rogers.
Miss Elsie Dean White, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. V. White, of this city, and Mr. Chas. Rogers, son of a prominent farmer on the Speedwell pike, were married Saturday at noon at the residence of Dr. Homer W. Carpenter on Lancaster avenue. They were accompanied by Mr. Ben Johnson, a cousin of the groom, and the bride's cousin, Mrs. Geo. Phelps. They left immediately for Lexington where they will be entertained at the Phoenix at dinner. The news will come as quite a surprise to many of the friends as they did not let it be generally known until the last moment. The bride has been connected with the Daily Register's linotype staff for about a year, and is bright and attractive, and beloved by all. The man of her choice is a prominent young farmer.

Leslie Hendricks, of Radcliff, bought the T. N. Coons farm in Montgomery county at $335.

Heads of the railroads, to be returned to their owners March 1st next, are telling the public some very interesting facts about the roads in a series of advertisements now running in the newspapers of the country. Few realize the vast proportions of the business done by the railroads, though most people understand that the major portion of the great prosperity of today is largely due to our magnificent transportation system. In connection with the work of the railroads it is interesting to note their growth during the past few years. The ton-mile figures for recent years are as follows:

1890	76,000,000,000
1900	141,000,000,000
1910	255,000,000,000
1917	398,000,000,000
1918	409,000,000,000
1919 (estimated)	365,000,000,000

While the total freight traffic for 1919 shows a falling off from last year, the tonnage for September and October made new high records. The railroads are the life-blood of the country. They should have sane treatment.

P. A. C. Infirmary Notes

Christmas was a happy lay at the P. A. C. Infirmary.

Santa Claus, in answer to the letters sent through the Register, gave our two little boys the happiest Christmas of their lives.

He sent through kind friends, cakes, candy, fruits, books and toys, until the stockings hung up for them were full to over flowing.

A generous donation of cash was received from a charitable young lady, while a pair of shoes were given by one of our kind physicians.

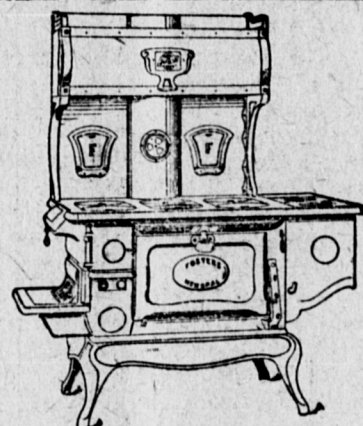

Mr. Tony Kunk was also generously remembered while our lady patients were made happy by visits from friends, flowers, letters, telegrams, and cards from distant friends.

Although we decided turkey was too expensive for us this year, it was not missed as our chicken yard provided tender fowls.

A firm sent us a large basket of choice fruit.

We were visited on Christmas Eve by members of the Epworth League and their sweet young voices blended most beautifully in those glorious songs of old.

Rev. Curt Jett will conduct the services at Pine Grove Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Everybody cordially invited.

They like them — hundreds of homes in this section have installed

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides, Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful."

"I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night. I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui."

"I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again. I decided I would try Cardui. By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone."

"I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial.

"The Eyes of a Regular Girl"

There are eyes that make you happy.

There are eyes that make you sad.

There are eyes that flash and get so snappy.

When they want to let you know they're mad.

There are eyes that have a tender meaning.

There are eyes that set you in a whirl.

But the eyes that haunt you are the black eyes.

Of Elsie Janis, "A Regular Girl."

(Try this to the tune of Smiles)

Elsie Janis who comes to the Richmond theatres on New Year's Day, is her first Selznick picture. "A Regular Girl" found her first comparison between the stage and the movies the day she went to the Selznick studio to make up for the camera. She has been on the stage twenty years, and never before in her experience used grease paint. The detailed instructions she had received about her make up for the screen were a hard blow, but harder yet were the minutes when Elsie had to become accustomed to carrying them out. Shrapnel had had charms compared to this yellow, sticky paste and travelling through trenches did not hold half the terror for her that a green pencil-liner did. "Elsie was miserable" her mother explains. "It almost distracted her to get smeared up like that and it pretty nearly made her cameraman and director collapse when they could not get her to stop contorting her face."

And it is a known fact around the studio that Elsie Janis would not permit anyone who did not know her well to interview her on out soon.

Misses Nora Agce and Genevieve Murphy are spending the holidays with relatives and friends near Nicholasville.

Mr. George Wilson, of Cincinnati, is spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. Ellen Wilson, on Breck avenue.

Miss Elizabeth Hanger, who has been attending school at Garden City, New York, is at home for the holidays.

Mr. John Will Price is at home from Transylvania University for a visit to his parents, Judge and Mrs. W. K. Price.

Mr. Carl Gilchrist, of Green-

"Pretty Baby" A Real Musical Comedy Hit

It would be gathered from the fact that the big musical comedy, "Pretty Baby," which comes to the Richmond Opera House for night on Wednesday, Dec. 31st, features the feminine element that it lacks male talent. Directly the contrary is true. It holds the record of being the best singing attraction on tour. Jimmie Hodges and Eva Lappin are ballet singers of the best; Tom Williams is gifted with a tenor seldom heard in the fields of musical comedy; Johnnie O'Neil will oblige with several musical numbers; Norman Coudy is also gifted with a delightful baritone and does some excellent solo work. While the trio is in the front rank as an organized singing trio, all the numbers in "Pretty Baby" are of recent composition, ranking from popular material to those of true musical worth. There is music for every taste.

Three of the male members of the company have only recently joined the ranks of Jimmie Hodges' company since the spring of 1917. They have been with the big show Uncle Sam has been producing and rejoined the "Pretty Baby" revue after all were given their honorable discharge from further service. Few would think that Jimmie Hodges, Norman Coudy or Ted Shaffer who you see prancing, singing and dancing in musical comedy regalia were so short time ago clad in khaki doing their bit amongst three million others for their country.

briar, W. Va., a student of Washington-Lee, accompanied Robert Felford home for the holidays.

Mrs. B. H. Neale, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Neale, and Mrs. M. M. Miller, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Neale, Tuesday.

John E. Booth, who is teaching in Millersburg, is spending the holidays with his parents, Prof. and Mrs. I. H. Booth, and other friends.

Mrs. H. B. Hanger who has been spending the fall months in New York City, returned with Miss Elizabeth Hanger to spend the holidays at Arlington.

Mr. Arnold Hanger, who returned last week from Europe arrived in Richmond Thursday for a visit to his parents, Col. and Mrs. H. B. Hanger, at Arlington.

Mr. George Lee, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lee, Mr. Frank Lee, Miss Louisa Lee and little Mary Louise Lee, all of Danville, were the holiday guests of Judge and Murray Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hamilton and little daughter, Florence, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Witt and son, Neville, were holiday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tipton near Lexington.

How Much Do You Spend For the Family Washing ?

Perhaps It Is More Than You Think It Is

Have you ever figured it out? Do.
The result will astonish you.
First, there is the help. Put that down.
(Don't forget the food).

Then the Soap. Put that down.
Then the Starch. Put that down.
Then the Bluing. Put that down.
Then the Gas or Coal. Put that down.
Then the Electricity. Put that down.
Those are items you can easily figure.

Then there is wear and tear on washing machines, tubs, washboards, wringers, boilers, clothes lines, clothes pins.

These are represented by a standing investment which must be considered, because these items wear out and must be replaced.

Then figure the cost in energy, and in time, supervising and seeing the job through; a big and important item.

Figure it all up and you will find that a home washing costs you more than our superior family washing service.

Many women have figured it out in black and white. Every week more women figure it out. The following week they send in their family washing.

Why don't you do some figuring now?

Ask yourself "Does it pay me, everything considering, to be bothered and fretted with the family washing?"
